Massachusetts Maritime Academy

2008-2009

In Memory of

Felipe Paes

The Class of 2009 would like to dedicate this yearbook to their classmate, Felipe Paes. He was a great cadet with a wonderful sense of humor, but most of all a great friend.

In Loving Memory,
The Class of 2009

"What the heart has once known, it shall never forget."

To the Class of 2009,

The past four years have been marked by a number of significant changes for MMA and its students. The Academy went green, changing the campus physically with the addition of the wind turbine. New athletic fields were added and new rooms created on top of existing ones, reflecting the prosperity of the school and the growth of its incoming classes. The newly named TS Kennedy, honoring the longstanding public service of the Kennedy family to Massachusetts, sits safe after its maiden voyage to the Caribbean this winter. And most recently, the maritime world grapples with the advent of a surge in piracy that struck a personal chord with the MMA community.

Though many of these transformations reveal an upward trajectory for the Massachusetts Maritime Academys campus, perhaps the more important signal of its success as an educational institution is the growth of its individual students and the personal transformations that have taken place among the students here. Im sure we can all remember our first few days at MMA, and the challenges of a new environment, a regimented lifestyle, and a demanding new curriculum. But these challenges have also afforded us unique skills and a loyal network that will open doors to respectable careers. The completion of these challenges has instilled in us traits of discipline, integrity, friendship, loyalty, and leadership that will shape the impact well have on others and men and women well become in our jobs and our communities.

All that said, we still owe a great deal to our families and friends parents, grandparents, siblings, aunts, uncles, friends, teachers the network of people who made it possible for us to be here for four years and to graduate today. These people provide support in invaluable and immeasurable ways, enabling us to overcome challenges and seek achievement in ways we never knew we could. We have a responsibility to be grateful for privilege of education, and a duty take advantage of the opportunity that a college degree like ours affords. Thank you to MMA and to all those who have supported us. Good luck to the graduates and Congratulations to the class of 2009!

Regards,

Matthew Duggan 09
Regimental Commander

To the Class of 2009:
In the thirty one years that I have been at Massachusetts Maritime Academy, rarely have I seen a class more successful or more effective. From the early, hectic days of your orientation, to graduation, the culmination of your years of hard work, this class has truly demonstrated class. Understanding the concepts of team work and leadership, the members of the Class of 2009 have pulled together and stepped up to the demands of managing the rapid growth of the regiment and the significant changes to the campus. You have navigated the rocks and shoals of a difficult, technical education and now sail into the harbor of your dreams.
Congratulations on a job well done!

Rick Gurnon
Rear Admiral, USMS
President, MMA

Congratulations
Class of 2009

I charge you to take the degree you have earned today and become active in our maritime world. - Captain William Pinkney

June 20th, 2009

You are the people who will make the future what it will be. Think not of just yourselves, become active in making that future worthwhile. In 1841 a statesman from Massachusetts, John Quincy Adams made a statement about those who banded together to fight for the AMISTAD Captives: "Every so often the passions of a few, exercised in the interest of mankind, lights the way for future generations."

Thank you to all the parents and guardians that purchased dedication pages for their cadet. This helped fund some of the costs for this yearbook so that we could make it better! We hope that you enjoy the pages that we put together for them; we spent a lot of time on them in hopes of pleasing you. Thank you again.

Sincerely,
The Yearbook Staff,
Allison Condino and Alison Dombrowski

Twenty years from now you will be more disappointed by the things that you didn't do than by the ones you did do. So throw off the bowlines. Sail away from the safe harbor. Catch the trade winds in your sails.
Explore. Dream. Discover.

Peter Beuth

Dear Pete,

From the earliest moments of your life you have been connected to the ocean. Now, you are poised to begin a new career that will further the relationship that you have been building with it your whole life.

The ocean is beautiful and inspirational in so many ways, yet always commands the utmost respect from those who would venture forth onto it. Never lose sight of that and the two of you, were sure, will work in harmony.

We are so very proud of who you are, Pete, and we look forward to following all of your adventures as you navigate through life.

May the wind always be at your back. May the sun shine warm upon your face. We love you all of the drops in the ocean, Pete.

"All of us have in our veins the exact same percentage of salt in our blood that exists in the ocean, and, therefore, we have salt in our blood, in our sweat, in our tears. We are tied to the ocean. And when we go back to the sea -- whether it is to sail or to watch it -- we are going back from whence we came. " -John F. Kennedy

First and foremost we would like to thank Lieutenant Sam White who has guided us throughout the year. In addition, we would like to thank Peter Beuth for his photos of Sea Term, and also all the cadets who contributed pictures and text for the yearbook. Our final thanks goes to the parents and guardians of the senior class, who have donated towards the yearbook fund making this yearbook possible. Congratulations to the Class of 2009!
